MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director for Administration

FROM: Robert A. Ingram, M.D.
Director of Medical Services

SUBJECT: Nutritional Supplements After Medical Screening

1. The medical screening process involves a 14-hour fast plus time involved with actual testing and drawing of blood samples. It is not unusual for a patient to go 18 hours without eating due to time requirements, follow-up appointments, need for repeat tests, and delay due to sheer volume of people processed. Often patients complain of dizziness and weakness, and a few faint from a combination of low blood sugar, stress, and fatigue.

2. It is my professional judgment that a requirement exists for the Office of Medical Services to furnish nutritional supplements, i.e., juice, cookies, etc., to alleviate the applicant's medical symptoms and to avoid any sequela. It is therefore requested that funds be allocated to purchase nutritional supplements for applicants undergoing processing.

3. As an additional benefit, the applicant's impression of the Agency will be a positive one and will promote the DDA's "quality of life" theme.

Robert A. Ingram, M.D.
